

Lunik, Remember

Remember - like raindrops in the wind they rise and crystallize in the sky as the snow in front of my window You run like molten snow and follow the flow of the brook - the stream - the river then the sea between big fish and submarines Remember - the times you're looking for leaves in autumn under trees

Remember - the times you're looking
for leaves in autumn under trees

Remember - like raindrops in the sea
Who join to the sun and the long run Through the winds between the sky and the streams they begin Remember - what you see - you love - you hate remember When you feel the times you're looking for leaves in autumn under trees
these times will never change to me
