

Lydia, Stay Awake

Live it up, live it up
Or just come back home
Yeah, cause these city lights
Are too much for you alone
But San Francisco sounds quite lovely
And so I'll just wait for your call
I promise, I promise I'm holy, lonely

So stay awake and I'll stay
I try and go, but your game
It waits for me and you, love

So cover up for the rain
You see in way too much safety
Cause I don't stand a chance
Any longer than you do my friend
Cause we sure know best
Now that you're gone

Cause I can't breathe
With these words on my tongue
But San Francisco still sounds lovely
Cause he swears he still loves you
He still loves you
He called, lonely

So stay awake and I'll stay
I try and go, but your game
It waits for me and you, love

So cover up for the rain
You see in way too much safety
Cause I don't stand a chance
Any longer than you do my friend
But you're still keeping me sane

It's still in the way that I think nobody is watching
Yeah, nobody's watching me and
It's still in the way that I think nobody is watching
Yeah, nobody's watching me and
It's still in the way that I think nobody is watching
Yeah, nobody's watching

The rain
You see in way too much safety
Cause I don't stand a chance
Any longer than you do my friend
But you're still keeping me sane

The rain
You see in way too much safety
Cause I don't stand a chance
Any longer than you do my friend
But you're still keeping me sane
