

Magnum, Brand New Morning

Got no illusions that you still care
Those good intentions will take you there
A celebration, the time is right
A fascination all through the night

Well, it's a brand new morning
And it's the start of your new life
It's a brand new morning
You'd better try and get it right
Brand new morning
You've been awake since early light
Brand new morning
So spread your wings and you'll take flight

You walk with freedom through any door
The revolution don't mean much more
You feel it coming out of the past
The bells of winter come alive at last

Well, it's a brand new morning
And it's the start of your new life
It's a brand new morning
You'd better try and get it right
Brand new morning
You've been awake since early light
Brand new morning
So spread your wings and you'll take flight
