

Magnum, If I Could Live Forever

Friday night is almost over
Not a word has passed between
And before I get much older

I know if I could live forever
Nothing would change to better
Nothing will change at all
You gave me your love to last me forever, I know
You gave me your love to last me wherever I go

Now the world did sell so cheaply
For the price of just a kiss
Why should anyone believe me?

I know if I could live forever
Nothing would change to better
Nothing will change at all
You gave me your love to last me forever, I know
You gave me your love to last me wherever I go

Friday night is almost over
Not a word has passed between
And before I get much older

If again, he should embrace you
Would you follow him or stay?
Could you take what you would go through?

I know if I could live forever
Nothing would change to better
Nothing will change at all
You gave me your love to last me forever, I know
You gave me your love to last me wherever I go
