

Magnum, Midnight (You Won't Be Sleeping)

I know how it feels to cry but it's only lovers
Know the reason why they stay together
And when your time has come, you'll soon discover
Look at what you've done, could be forever

Your open arms say everything, you're always there
It seems I might be here all night
I'll light a candle bright, to show your way tonight
Midnight, you won't be sleeping, I won't be leaving

Off with my foolish pride, too much in trouble
Never could decide, always a struggle
Now I know how it feels to cry, it's only lovers
Know the reason why they stay together

Your open arms say everything, you're always there
It seems I might be here all night
I'll light a candle bright, to show your way tonight
Midnight, you won't be sleeping, I won't be leaving