

Magnum, Wild Swan

Wild swan, follow the river, don't fly through dangerous skies
On and on, from bow and quiver, ride over mountains so high
Over fields and the ruin of castles, into the evening we soar
City lights begin to sparkle like diamonds thrown to the floor

Fly home - it's just me and you, your only son
Fly home - I've been waiting to, the time has come
Fly home - it's just me and you, your only son
Fly home - I've been waiting to, the time has come

Wild swan, follow the river, don't fly through dangerous skies
On and on, from bow and quiver, ride over mountains so high
Out to sea on the wings of heaven, where silver cuts like a knife
Say farewell to the ships of the ocean, we travel into the night

Fly home - it's just me and you, your only son
Fly home - I've been waiting to, the time has come
Fly home - it's just me and you, your only son
Fly home - I've been waiting to, the time has come
