Marc Bolan, The Wizard

Walking in the woods one day I met a guy who said that he was magic Wonderful things he said, oh yeah Pointed hat upon his head Knew why people laughed and cried Why they lived and why they di-di-di-de-die di-di-di-de-die, di-di-di-di-die

Shadows followed him around He walked through the woods without a single sound di-di-di-de-die, di-di-di-de-die, di-di-di-die

Golden eagles at his door Cats and bats played on the floor Silver sunlight in his eyes The wizard turned and melted in the sky.

Walking in the woods one day
I met a guy who said that he was magic Wonderful things he said, oh yeah
Pointed hat upon his head
Knew why people laughed and cried
Why they lived and why they di-di-di-de-die di-di-di-di-de-die, di-di-di-di-di-di

Shadows followed him around
He walked through the woods without a single sound
Golden eagles at his door
Cats and bats played on the floor
Silver sunlight in his eyes
The wizard turned and melted in the sky.
