

Marissa, Poison

When the sun goes down
I wanna have you here by my side
Have you ever lost your name?
There's so many things to say
When I crash into the stars
Everything's goin' blind
Now I slowly realize
Why you wanna say goodbye

Oh, maybe I wanna be too high

Maybe it's just my paranoia
And I guess she's comin' for ya
I can see she wears my sweater
You can lose me if you let her
It's not the first time that you're lost in
Pretty eyes, they feel like poison
You two look so good together, together

Well, when I try to heal my mind
Lookin' in his eyes, my heart is just allowed
And it's tearing me apart
Now, I think I need to change my start
When he's gone away, that feels like sun is going down
And I crash into the stars

Oh, maybe I wanna be too high

Maybe it's just my paranoia
And I guess she's comin' for ya
I can see she wears my sweater
You can lose me if you let her
It's not the first time that you're lost in
Pretty eyes, they feel like poison
You two look so good together, together

Crashin' into stars
Cryin' every time she's in my sweater
Crashin' into stars
Every time she's in my sweater
Crashin' into stars
Every time, every time

Maybe it's just my paranoia
And I guess she's comin' for ya
