

Mark Lind, Damageproof

I got up today with the sun going down
I sat back today and watched the wheel go around and around
I still remember
I won't surrender
Now we're free
You can throw your stones but you'll break no bones on me
I remember yesterday I went looking for more
And it turned out all along I had what I was looking for
So I won't go out tonight to find myself
Because all I need is here in me.
I have all I need. A place to be.
I still remember
I won't surrender
Now we're free
You can throw your stones but you'll break no bones on me
Because all I need is here in me.
I have all I need. A place to be.
I still remember
I won't surrender
Now we're free
You can throw your stones but you'll break no bones on me
I still remember