Maroon 5, Pantry Queen

Your wind blows Your mind falls down Just give me The time to drown

Your wind blows Your mind falls down Just give me The time to drown

The boys are digging the ground But I can't stop spinning around

One day you will let me be What I wanted you to be

The boys are stopping the ground from taking those things we found Someday you will let me see all of the things we used to see

Someday you will let me be all of the things we used to be Someday you will let me be the champ you wanted her to see
