

Martina McBride, Rockabye Heart

This world is full of highs and lows wide open smiles and tears that flow and you're bound to have your share of both, that's guaranteed sometimes you'll fly, sometimes you'll dance around it all, but on your knees or standing tall you can always count on me.

CHORUS

So close your tired eyes precious angel of mine and let my love surround you in the dark and sure as the sun that rises you'll have all you desire so rest your wishes in the cradle of my arms and lay dreams down in my rock-a-bye heart You're the answer the a life long prayer there's heaven in your eyes I swear One look and you can take me there, that's all I need,
your laugh is music to my ears, you and I cry and I can taste the tears, and i'll forever be right here to watch you dream

CHORUS

Sure as the sun that rises you'll have all you desire so rest your wishes in the cradle of my arms and lay your dreams down in my rock-a-bye heart ooo rock-a-bye heart
