Marty Robbins, You're Not The Only One

Has the wondering started Is she bein' untrue Has the lovelight departed Has she found someone new You're not the only one You're not the only one It happened to me It happened to me

Has she started forgetting
Does she answer your call
Have you started regretting
That you love her at all
You're not the only one
You're not the only one
It happened to me
It happened to me

Her promises wilted Like leaves on a tree And she left me To cry endlessly You're not the only one You're not the only one It happened to me It happened to me
