

Mary J. Blige, Destiny

People tell me my life was pre destined from my life, others shall learn a lesson born a leader with the world on my shoulders age is young but my mind is much older living up to everyones expectations condemned me to a world of demnation I gotta clear these voices from my head all these opinionated noises listen to the voice of my creator opens door to a path much greater on this path the days drawn nearer where I can be happy, finally happy (Chorus - Repeat 2x's)
Searching for my destiny A search for what makes me happy Instead what others thought of me I gotta be happy, finally happy Time to broaden my horizons come out from the dark and open up my eyes and start to define my destiny experience what life can really be no longer concerned with your opinion all of my life I've had dominion I'm stronger now than before I'm sure I could be so much more now what you thought I would be cause I'm gonna be happy yeah I'm gonna be happy, finally you see (Chorus)
