Mary J. Blige, Give Me You (Extended Nino Radio

I don't ask for too many things Only one thing I really need That is you baby next to me With that I'm satisfied Don't need diamonds I don't need gold I just need someone here to hold To keep me warm when the nights are cold That would do just fine, just fine

You don't have to promise me the stars Just promise me love, inside your heart And that's enough Baby that's enough

[chorus] (Give me you) Give me you, give me all of you (Give me night) All my nights spent just holding you (Give me day) All my days being close to you Nothing else that I need (Give me you) Give me you, give me all your love (Give me time) All your time, all your tender time (All your heart) All your soul baby that's enough Nothing else that I need Give me you, give me you That's enough for me baby

Hmm

I don't need things that money buys All I need is there in your eyes I just need your heart next to mine All my whole life through

You don't have to bring the moon to me Just bring me the love The love that I need And that's enough Ooh baby that's enough

[chorus]

You don't have to promise me the stars Just promise me that I have your heart You don't have to bring the world to me Just give me your word, you will never leave Cause having you beside me, I have everything I need So give me, give me you

(Give me you) (Give me night) All my nights spent just holding you (Give me day) All my days being close to you Nothing else that I need, oh (Give me you) Give me you, give me all your love (Give me time) All your time, all your tender time (All your heart) All your soul baby that's enough That's enough, nothing else that I need Give me you, give me you That's enough for me baby, yeah Give me you
