

Mary Komasa, Lost Me

You lost me everyday, every night, one by one

We both chose to stay blind,
Swallow lies, but now it's done

As I try again to open up my eyes,
I see you left behind
Forgive me, I admit the guilt is mine, but let me get on with my life

I know I played games with your heart, made you cry

Believe me
I'm not proud of myself
But it's done

As I try again to open up my eyes,
I see you left behind
Forgive me, I admit the guilt is mine, but let me get on with my life

Keep silent, words won't fix a thing
It's what I feel, not what I think of you
Don't try to hold me back

I beg you, get on with your life

You lost me everyday, every night, one by one
We both chose to stay blind,
Swallow lies, but now it's done
/3x

But now it's done...
