

Mastodon, Teardrinker

Within a bruised heart
I'll just say when
Just one time before
It will come again
Little voice inside
Inside my head
Tell me when it's time to turn around again

All appears to fade away

I can see your face
And i feel the pain
And i feel the shame
Taht i ahave ley you down again
People everywhere
Not a drop to drink
Not a dare to rhink about teh damege i have done

Try to give up what weighs
What weighs you down
The only control you have
Is all your own
Do I fit the pieces
Together again
Or do I leave them lying on the floor?

All appears to fade away

I can see your face
And i feel the pain
And i feel the shame
Taht i ahave ley you down again
People everywhere
Not a drop to drink
Not a dare to rhink about teh damege i have done

Leaving you behind
Is the hardest think i've done
Asking where did i go wrong?
I Wonder what all of this makes
Does fortune favr the bold?
I only know that keaving you
Was the hardest thinsg
To cut and run

I can see your face
And i feel the pain
And i feel the shame
Taht i ahave ley you down again
People everywhere
Not a drop to drink
Not a dare to rhink about teh damege i have done