

Matt Pond PA, Apology

apology it's an apology it sucks that something's evil in i'm sorry i didn't steal your strength but i didn't ease your mind i'm a junky for good guilt and my affection's hard to find apology it's no apology you know that something's evil in I'm sorry you turn to me and then you turn to me currency is comfort this time with feeling you're waiting for the word that i can't say to you i could learn to hate the truth or i could learn to lie for you you to me and then you turned on me whenever i start speaking you stop smiling you said to me what's that you said to me i love you means so little when no one's listening
