

Melanie Martinez, Haunted

I could pull the sheets over my head
And never get out of this bed
But what would that do?
I avoid all mirrors 'Cause I'm scared to look into my eyes
When I only see you
It's like you're always creeping
On the walls and in my feelings
All those stories about ghosts
Are really true
I put one foot
In front of the other
In front of the other
Slowly
I turn every corner
Turn every corner
Even when you're nowhere in the room I'm haunted by you
I light all the candles Light all the candles The darkness is too hard to handle
Too hard to handle
Sleeping is just something I can't do
I'm haunted by you
I can hear you talking in the distance Your persistence is so cruel
And all your words pull at my feet
And I fall back in love with you
What can I do?
It's like you're always creeping
On the walls and in my feelings
All those stories about ghosts
Are really true
I put one foot In front of the other In front of the other
Slowly I turn every corner
Turn every corner
Even when you're nowhere in the room I'm haunted by you
I light all the candles
Light all the candles
The darkness is too hard to handle Too hard to handle
Sleeping is just something I can't do
I'm haunted by you
We used to be so warm
Now we're just in a storm
Slowly freezing up my heart
We used to be so warm
Now we're just in a storm
Slowly freezing up my heart
Heart, heart I put one foot
In front of the other
In front of the other
Slowly I turn every corner
Turn every corner
Even when you're nowhere in the room I'm haunted by you
Light all the candles The darkness is too hard to handle
Too hard to handle
I'm haunted by you
