

Melissa Dori Dye, Down

Rain on me cause I deserve it
I deserve it,deserve it,deserve it
Shame on me for wanting to love you
I might have been more faithful
Thought I never existed
All the while you were plotting my death
Plotting my death,plotting my death
Let's take our last breath together

May love bring us light as the world spins round
You and me are taking everyone down
And there you are why should I care
Now I know you hear me

Plotting my death,plotting my death
Let's take our last breath together

May love bring us light as the world spins round
You and me are taking everyone down

And there you are why should I care now
Now I know you hear me
You and I are angry but at who?
Is it me? Is it you?
Why is love so cruel
Who sent you, who sent you
Who sent you,who sent you

May love bring us light as the world spins round
You and me are taking everyone down
And there you are why should I care
Now I know you hear me
You and I are angry but at who
Is it me? Is it you?
Why is love so cruel
Who sent you, who sent you
