

Middle Of The Road, To Remind Me

When I look through my window I only see rain
And my thoughts go back to those wonderful days
We shared together and you left without any cares
And I only have pain to remind me

We started a love right
Then something went wrong
I tried to hold on to you
But now now that you have gone
My dreams are shattered I hold
And I thought would come true
And I only have pain to remind me now

You had me close in your arms
Your breath was one next to mine all night through
But when the morning arrived
You left without a goodbye
And I knew I was losing you

Another rain on the window
Reminds me of tears

These lonely tears
That I've shed for you all through the years
When you find someone new you can love more than I
And I only have pain to remind me

(piano)

And I only have pain to remind me now
You had me close in your arms
Your breath was one next to mine all night through
But when the morning arrived
You left without a goodbye
And I knew I was losing you.

Another rain on the window
Reminds me of tears
These lonely tears
That I've shared for you all through the years
When you find someone new you can love more than I
And I only have pain to remind me (6x) now
