

Miike Snow, The Wave

The first strike of the hammer
Make my heart beat faster
The rat tattoo on my knee
That there was something behind me

You can hear them
You can hear them banging on the tin
But my love won't be sane
Will I be staring at the wave?

Buried at the wave
They told me I wasn't anything
Before the bombs started falling
I was feat of the master
I was a walking disaster

I know you hear them come
I know you hear the sound
I know you feel it coming
Don't let me get you down

I know you hear it coming...
