

Mika Urbaniak, Easy

For you love's a battlefield hearts are weapons fighter's shield
can't you see smooth it can be let love be easy, easy born a fighter, I can see life can be lived, so easily see the river, how it flows summer sun, is all it knows set our differences aside put your heart on the line let the stars collide I'm choicelessly in love you could be too
let love
be easy, easy trees don't argue, fuss or fight they can love, both dark and bright show me that grace, as in them from the same source, which we stem interlude
bluebird knows, the song it sings don't know nothing 'bout diamond rings the moon only knows, how to shine has no choice, but feels divine
