

Monaco, Blue

When I feel so insecure
And it all seems so unsure
And my mind is miles away
When I'm down and can't get up
And I've just run out of luck
And there's nothing else to say
And all the while
You keep me holding on
Though I feel like my life is nearly gone
And when life seems so absurd
And everyone has heard
'bout something you should die for
So scary though it seems
That you live your life in dreams
And there's nothing left to cry for
Though I look at you
And know that you're the one
All I want to say (is)
Our lives have just begun
