

MOONLIGHT HAZE, It's Insane

It's been a couple of days now since it all has begun
Something has changed inside me and there is much going on
I Just cannot see the world the way that I did before

I'm sick and tired of distress, I always worry too much

I want to live my days like after one glass of good wine
When you're still sober but bad thoughts start to leave from your mind
I can perceive every atom of this body of mine
It might sound silly but hey, I know at least I should try

Flames and fire spitting sparks inside my soul
It all seems so right to me although I know...

It's insane, I don't care
'Cause I'm burning inside
Fuel the flames, no more pain
Never felt so alive!
No remorse, let it go
Because life is too short
It's insane, and again
There's this melody stuck in my brain

It's like the first ray of sun after a week in the dark
My fears are melting away, I know they've left a deep mark
It all unravels so easily from this new perspective
Oh, Freedom is so addictive!

Flames and fire though my veins, sparks in my eyes
This is how I want to live even if I realize...

It's insane, I don't care
'Cause I'm burning inside
Fuel the flames, no more pain
Never felt so alive!
No remorse, let it go
Because life is too short
It's insane, and again
There's this melody stuck in my brain
Uh, it's insane!

It's insane, I don't care
'Cause I'm burning inside
Fuel the flames, no more pain
Never felt so alive!
That's the way of the world
So I'm ready to glow
I will go with the flow from now on
I want to live my days like after one glass of good wine

I won't let the embers die
I won't give up my fire
It's insane, I don't care
'Cause I'm burning inside
Fuel the flames, no more pain
Never felt so alive!
No remorse, let it go
Because life is too short
It's insane, and again
There's this melody stuck in my brain

It's insane, I don't care
'Cause I'm burning inside
Fuel the flames, no more pain

Never felt so alive!
That's the way of the world
So I'm ready to glow
I'll just go with the flow
And let life take its course from now on
