Morrissey, I'll Never Be Anybody's Hero

Ill never be Anybody's hero-Morrissey

Warm lights from the grand houses blind me Haves cannot stand have-nots And my love is under the ground My one true love is under the ground And ill never be ill never be ill never be anybodys hero now ill never be ill never be ill never be anybodys hero now they who should love me walk right through me I am a ghost and as far as I know I haven't even died And my love is under the ground My one true love is under the ground And ill never be ill never be ill never be anybodys hero now ill never be ill never be ill never be anybodys hero now ill never be ill never be ill never be anybodys lover now ill never be ill never be ill never be anybodys lover now things I've heard and ive seen and Ive felt and ive been tell me ill never be anybodys lover now it begins in the heart and it hurts when its true it only hurts because its true.
