

Motor Ace, Budge

So here we feel sunrise, another breath
Been losing sleep cause I've foreseen my death
And all these times I dream & lose my place so write it down, so write it down my friend
There's things I'd hate to read out of the world
There's things I love in all the same surrounds
But all these times I read it in to space
She's not onto you yet, but she's getting close my friend
I won't budge
But I won't blame you for trying
It's not easy to contain
I won't budge
But I won't blame you for trying
There's no reason to complain
So here we are sunrise, another call
Been losing touch with everyone I love
And all these lies you weave & call a face
They're not onto you yet
But they're getting very close my friend
I won't budge
But I won't blame you for trying
It's not easy to contain
I won't budge
But I won't blame you for trying
There's no reason to complain
I won't budge
But I won't blame you for trying
It's not easy to explain
