

Mudhoney, Stab Your Back

As she went away before my eyes
I guess I ran away from kneeling at her bedside
I was helpless all I did was cry
Aslong as you're able to hold your tears inside

Well I thought I was dead when I found her
Saved my life but now she's gone
I thought I was dead when I found her
Where does that leave me now?

I could die a million times
But I'm not sure if I'd ever live
I'm gonna die at least one more time
Still not sure if I'll ever live

Well I thought I was dead when I found her
Saved my life but now she's gone
I thought I was dead when I found her
Where does that leave me now?
Where does that leave me now?

Everywhere I look I see her face
And I can't get her out of my head
Unless you come over to my place and lie down in my bed

Baby help me forget
