Muse, Will Of The People

The will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the will of the
Will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the will of the
Will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the will of the
Will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the will of the

Let's push the emperors into the ocean

The will of the people, the will of the people, the will of the Don't need a gun to flirt with devotion

The will of the people, the will of the people, the will of the With every hour our number increases

The will of the people, the will of the people, the will of the We'll smash your institutions to pieces

The will of the people, the will of the people, the will of the

We need a transformation One we all can see We need a revolution So long as we stay free

The will of the will of the

Welcome to the desecration, baby We built you right up and we'll tear you down Welcome to the celebration, baby The chances are turning, the future is ours

Free your sons and unlock your daughters
We'll throw the baby out with the bathwater
With every second our anger increases
We're gonna smash a nation to pieces
The will of the people, the will of the people, the will of the

We need a transmutation One we all can see We need a revolution So long as we stay free

The will of the will of the

[Chorus]

Welcome to the desecration, baby
We built you right up and we'll tear you down
Welcome to the celebration, baby
The chances are turning, the future is ours

[Bridge]

The will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the will of the
Will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the will of the
Will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the will of the
Will of the people
The will of the will of the
Will of the people

The will of the people
The will of the will of the
Will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the will of the
Will of the people
The will of the sheeple
The will of the will of the
Will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the people
The will of the will of the
