

My Bloody Valentine, By The Danger In Your Eye

When I see you
In your plastic coat and sandals
It's like a dream
Oh there's no words for how I feel
In your pastel coloured clothes
You look like Echstein

When you undress
You shimmer in the sunlight
I held my breath
But I simply feel I've no cares
When your hair hangs down
And hides the look in your eyes

Your chemistry is attractive to me
In certain light you are hypnotised
By the danger in your eyes
You carry through
There's a kindness in your nature
Life is for (child)
And everyone let's you unwind
In your pastel coloured clothes
You look like Echstein

Your chemistry is attractive to me
In certain light you are hypnotised
By the danger in your eyes

Look at the sun
'Cause it's shining for you
You think it's fun
You are hypnotised
By the danger in your eyes
