

My Chemical Romance, Stay

To try to say
All the lights already low enough to play
It's so much easier than falling down
I'll spare my life to prove that I was
Worth a damn to prove the world right
I'm glad to be up but
If I meant the world to you

Then would you stay
Right here, if I told you
Someone out there loves you
And would you stay
Right here, if I told you
Someone out there loves you

After all
There's times you decide
It's easier to fall
Then to pick yourself up off the floor
Well, I'll spare my life to prove that I was
Worth a damn to prove the world right
I'm glad to be up but
If I meant the world to you

Then would you stay
Right here, if I told you
Someone out there loves you
And would you stay
Right here, if I told you
Someone out there loves you

And if no one out, no one
Out there
Is there no one who, no one
Who cares
And if no one out, no one
Out there
Is there no one who, no one
Who cares

Then if you go
Just please go home!

And would you stay
Right here, if I told you
Someone out there loves you
And would you stay
Right here, if I told you
Someone out there loves you

And if no one out, no one
Out there
Is there no one who, no one
Who cares
Out there
Who cares
