

Natalia Nykiel, Laura

You say that the evil left you behind
Your heart broken,
A part of you died
Keep your arms around me and softly say:
"Can we dance upon the tables again?"

When you smile so wide
Your heels are so high
You can't cry, get your glad rags on
And let's sing along
To that lonely song
Is a train that crashed my heart
You're the glitter in the dark
Uh, Laura you're more than a superstar
And in this horror show
I've got to let you so:
"Laura you're more than a superstar"

We seen each other stuck in a pale blue dream
And your tears feel hard on my bed sheets
Keep your arms around me and softly say"
"Can we dance upon the tables again?"

When you smile so wide
Your heels are so high
You can't cry but you're glad
Vibe's on and let's sing along
To that lonely song
You're the train that crashed my heart
You're the glitter in the dark
Laura you're more than a superstar
You'll be famous for longer and then
Your name is tattooed on every boy's skin
Laura you're more than a superstar

You're the train that crashed my heart
You're the glitter in the dark
Laura you're more than a superstar
And in this horror show
I've got to let you know
Laura you're more than a superstar
You're more than a superstar