Natasha Bedingfield, Freckles

I used to care so much about what others think about Almost didn't have a thought of my own The slightest remark would make me embark on a journey of self doubt But that was a while ago

This girl has got stronger And if I knew then what I know now I would have told myself don't worry any longer It's OK

'Cause a face without freckles is like a sky without the stars Why waste a second not loving who you are? Those little imperfections make you beautiful, loveable, valueable They show your personality inside your heart Reflecting who you are

(Who you are, who you are, who you are Oh, yeah yeah, ah)

I wondered if I could trade my body with some body else in magazines With the whole world fall at my feet I felt unworthy and would blame my failures on the ugliness I could see When the mirror looked at me

(Sometimes I feel)

Sometimes I still feel like a little girl who doesn't belong in the wrong world But I'll get it better by reminding myself

That a face without freckles is like a sky without the stars Why waste a second not loving who you are? Those little imperfections make you beautiful, loveable, valueable They show your personality inside your heart Reflecting who you are

(Who you are)

Reflecting who you are Reflecting who you are Ummm, ooh ooh ooh, oh

'Cause a face without freckles is like a sky without the stars Why waste a second not loving who you are? Those little imperfections make you beautiful, loveable, valueable They show your personality inside your heart Reflecting who you are
