

neena (NINA KARPIŃSKA), ROSES

All my angers were brought to feel
All confusions were born
All my sadness so heavy to bare
All my feelings held beneath

All my glories and all of the raptures
All my failures so disruptive
All my emotions dying slowly
'cause of words we've said

All the roses
They wane when I go on my own
World's been frozen
Since I understood that you've gone
All the roses and I
I can breathe no more no more

All the roses
They wane when I go on my own
World's been frozen
On my own on my own

Come with me to horizon
Come with me to horizon

All the roses
We've right to explore
All the roses my roses
My roses

In the black I'm stuck in my feelings
They stop the blood in my veins
