Nelly Furtado, Somebody To Love

You got your ways enough of mine It's taking up all of my time We need you to adore me Come sit and drink from a cup Don't leave until you're filled up You're tired of all your travelling

I don't need nothing at all Nothing but your kiss Nothing but your arms I don't need nothing at all

But somebody to love Somebody to hold Somebody that I can feel in my blood Somebody to hold Somebody to own Somebody to make me feel I'm in love

I know I'm missing for a word I'm not trying to say a thing I'm trying to live in this moment Count all the sins, what it says Tell me how long it'll take To unravel your body

I don't need nothing at all Nothing but your touch Nothing but your hand I don't need nothing at all

But somebody to love Somebody to hold Somebody that I can feel in my blood Somebody to hold Somebody to own Somebody to make me feel I'm in love

I need somebody to love Somebody to hold Somebody that I can feel in my blood Somebody to hold Somebody to own Somebody to make me feel I'm in love
