

Newsboys, WooHoo (German)

request the honor of your presence the tear gas has blown away put down your crumpets and your coffee now so unfashionably late little brother, little sister underwater we go out of our ordinary selves stepping out to where the people sing woohoooooooooooo

-and the people sing
-and the times are good

you say i'm acting like a beggar i call it killing the fool you carry more baggage than a momma's boy on your first day of school let go of the light of the t.v.

drop the hands
the chains that bind me turn it all around stop, lift you up 'n die to self in a time when the left and the right's the same when it's all blurred vision in a crazy haze send out the invitations!

you say i'm acting like a beggar
i call it killing the fool
to save your life you gotta lose it so the people sing...