Nick Cave, Viviane

Cave Nick Miscellaneous Viviane These lyrics were taken from an edition of The Witness, the Official fan newsletter.

Viviane I will love you till the last nail has been driven in

Viviane Till we disappear hand in hand into oblivian (sic)

Oh Viviane I will love you until the void delivers us from this world we're living in

Oh oh Viviane I love you until the ghost of your smile grows faint and withering

Viviane You are my heroin, my aspirin, my insulin

Viviane The winds of change are blowing and I am shivering....

(...the rest (if indeed there is any more) is obscured.)
