Nick Cave, Wonderful Life

Come in, babe Across these purple fields The sun has sunk behind you Across these purple fields That idiot-boy in the corner Is speaking deviated truths Come on, admit it, babe It's a wonderful life If you can find it It's a wonderful life that you bring Ooh it's a wonderful thing

Speak our secret into your hands And hold it in between Plunge your hands into the water And drown it in the sea There will be nothing between us, baby But the air that we breathe Don't cry It's a wonderful, wonderful life If you can find it If you can find it If you can find it It's a wonderful life that you bring It's a wonderful, wonderful thing

We can build our dungeons in the air And sit and cry the blues We can stomp across this world With nails hammered through our shoes We can join that troubled chorus Who criticise and accuse It don't matter much We got nothing much to lose But this wonderful life If you can find it And when you find it And when you find it It's a wonderful life that you bring It's a wonderful, wonderful, wonderful thing

Sometimes our secrets are all we've got With our lives we must defend Sometimes the air between us, babe Is unbearably thin Sometimes it's wise to lay down your gloves And just give in Come in, come in Come in, come in To this wonderful life If you can find it And if you find it It's a wonderful life that you bring It's a wonderful, wonderful thing It's a wonderful life It's a wonderful life
