

Niki Haris, I Will Always Be There

Thought our time alone was short
I still hear the birds sing
We may never have the time to see what love, to see what love can bring.
Oh my love I just wanna make you mine.
I recall the night we met
there was music in the air.
Can't forget the warmth of your embrace.
And when we danced i could feel you loving care
but you left, not a shadow not a trace.
And I will always be there with you every single day.
Even if you cannot see me I will never go astray.
A love like ours can even stand the test that time will bring.
So much more than a fling.
Even if you love me so I can only wait so long,
time has passed and I'm starting to forget.
Could it be, could it be that I was wrong,
wrong about, wrong about the night we met.
And I will always be there with you every single day.
Even if you cannot see me I will never go astray.
A love like ours can even stand the test that time will bring.
So much more than a fling.
Don't think that you can treat me
just like any other girl, I've waited for your love
to take me to another world.
And now I see you never cared about me in that way
our love has gone away.
