

Nikolo Kotzev, Try To Live Again

Try to live again
Well, I know I can make it -
It's written on the wind
First let me wipe this tear from my eye
So I can see you standing in the front of me

Try to love again
Well, my arms want to hold you
But your heart has to mend
I could be the one to help you forget
My love will make you strong

So, we can go on

There's a light that's shining
There's a dream worth finding
I know, somewhere

I see the clouds are breaking
Even, though your heart is aching
I'll take you there

I feel your love is waiting

It's all here for the taking

So clear tonight, I can see it in your eyes

But first I've got to try

There's no tears left to cry

Oh, I know I've got to try

Try to live again

Oh, try to live again
I know I can do it ...

Got to try to live again