

Nine Inch Nails, Everything

I survived, everything
I have tried, everything
Everything, everything,
And everything

All the walls begin to devolve away
Do your hands begin to shake, shake, shake, shake, shake?
And just who do you think you used to be?
All beings to burn to break, to break, to break

Wave goodbye, wish me well
I've become, something else
Something else, something else, just as well

But this thing that lives inside of me
Will surely rise awake, awake, awake, awake, awake
And the seed that breaks right through to me
And it comes to grab and take, and take, and take, and take

I am home, I believe
I am home, I am free
I am home, I can see
Always here, finally

I am home, I believe,
I am home, I am free