

Nine Inch Nails, Gunshots By Computer

Are you lookin' for the truth?
Or for another fight?
If you wanna give me what I want
Then give it up tonight

Freedom, ain't lookin' for no
Ain't lookin' for no fight
If you wanna give me what I want
Then give it up tonight

The world that circles around me could benefit from silence.
This song is my enemy.
Watch how I become it.
Cradled by mystery and make-believe.
I am floating in the eternight.
Chosen rich upon me.
This man and his army
Are preying in their fortresses.
Making guns of steeples.
Insurgents of people.
The messiah is an immigrant detained at the border.
Severed from his trinity.
His wife and his daughter.
America the beautfiul.
Nappy headed hoe-down.
Lynchburg throwdown
It seems our favorite pastime
Has become our most fair future.
Technology has failed us.
