Nine Inch Nails, Me, I'm Not

Well it's happening Never planned on this You've got something I need Kind of dangerous And I'm losing control I'm not used to this What you want from me I'm not used to this I can't shut it off This thing I've begun And it's hard to tell Just where it's coming from And it's hard to see What I'm capable of And it's hard to believe Just, what I've become Hey, can we stop Me, I'm not I can swallow it down Keep it all inside I define myself By how well I hide I feel it coming apart Well, at least I tried I can win this war By knowing not to fight If I take it all back Someway, somehow If I knew back then What I know right now Hey can we stop Me, I'm not Hey can we stop Me, I'm not Hey, can we stop Me, I'm not Hey, can we stop

Me, I'm not
