

Nixons, Secret

In my secret you are here
With eyes that know the truth
With eyes that understand
Reality is sadness
Daggers of my ignorance
Piercing any heart
The only place I'm not alone
In my secret
You smile
Softly speak my name
With whispers they don't hear
Outside my make believe
Stand towers of envy
For the arms that hold you now
The only place I'm not alone
Is in my secret
My secret
The words are like the breeze
Flowing softly to your heart
Reality is silence
The words are locked inside
And only I know
That someday he will learn
The only place I'm not alone
In my secret
Keep this secret
Welcome to my secret
