

No Motiv, No Hope

Saw you on the corner yesterday and it was bad
Everything you stood for made me irritated and sad
Nothing that I could say to you would turn you around
I just gave up all hope for you
And then I turned right back around
There's no hope, no hope for you
No hope for you
No hope it went all down the drain in just one day
One day...
Morning came and I awake in thinking I must sleep
This isn't no fucking bad dream
It's my twisted reality
I used to have hope for you
But now your just a dream
Terrorizing my nightmares and thinking of it makes me scream
No hope no hope for you, no hope
Why did you turn the other way?
Sickening as it is
I've offered you my help one last time
I've tried to help but then again no words can tell
The agonizing ignorance of your pathetic mind
Caused the downfall of respect I've had for you
For such a long time
