

No Motiv, Solemn

You've lost me now again
Burns my heart away
For me to hear you say Words so solemn It's hurting now again
Now that you're away Forgive me as I stare into your eyes tears me up inside
at last I must decide can I just be friends with you?
what am I supposed to do?
I'll find another way to see this heartache through
You make a fool of me
For you it's so easy I've tried my best to keep My pride within me
I know it sounds sad to say
But I'm in your way Because there is nothing I can do or say to make it right
tears me up inside
at last I must decide
can I just be friends with you?
what am I supposed to do?
I'll find another way to see this heartache through I'm blinded by the light of love I have for you Won't you come with me?
I'll lead the way for you
I can't compare the sadness that I feel away from you
