

No Use For A Name, Sleeping In

packing up the pictures in an old shoebox its so silent i can almost hear you walk, down the hall , standing in front of that window , and if heaven is so high , then why are you so low, does it feel as if your taking back the love that made it real?

in the darkness you will always see his face and i could never take the place of him today im sleeping in woke up its too late and i should be in school, theirs always something wrong when you ignore the rules never want to see myself in front of that window, sucking up your tears didnt want let me know too much, reaching out your hand for one last touch, take me with you,

everybody here is fake, and i dont wanna feel the same when you give in,
in a lifetime time, time will always take our place,
and i will lay here shielded from the pain,

ahh ahh ahh ahhh

this is a long time felt today, you gave me all that i could take and gave me strength to carry on in the darkness you will always see his face and i dont wanna be their when you do give in
in a lifetime time, time will always take our place,

ahh ahh ahh ahh

i do whatever i want you never let me down i always felt when lost , somehow your found, although life has all these consequences now, and thats okay and thats okay
