

Noah Cyrus, The End of Everything

Everyone you love is gonna die
But darling, so is everything
Don't cry
The stars will blink out one-by-one in time
Everyone you love is gonna die

Everything you fear is gonna end
All your hate and hurt lost to the end
And it's hard
I know the universe can be a jealous friend
But Everything you fear is gonna end

And there might not be a sadder thing
Than watching Saturn lose her rings
And black holes slowly dancing in the dark
It's a song that they were born to sing
About the end of everything
Until it all goes in the last spark
