

Novika, Safest

I'm ready for the day to come
When everything is gone and lost
And even our love can get us threw

I realize my helpless mood
Like flying with broken wing
The truth is I've never felt so real

No matter where I turn
It's like a distant blow
I feel the sky is safe for us to go
Don't wanna go above the clouds
Can afford to lose the fuel
Looking down and search piece of mine

When every birds are flying by
Don't wanna keep myself away
Nobody gonna guess
I don't belong

No matter where I turn
It's like a distant blow
I feel the sky is safe for us to go
Cause when the oceans rise
And trees are fall
The sky would be the safest place to go

I'm ready for the day to come
When everything is gone and lost
And even our love can get us threw
And even our love can get us
And even our love can get us
And even our love can get us threw
