

Now It S Overhead, Hi

Hi, nice to meet you.

You and I are one in the same.

Goodbye, I can see you walk until you're running away.

The moon glows and the sun shows what you're going to say.

You pass through like a jet low.

But you linger here all day so high

I can't reach you.

I'm swinging while you're floating away.

But time can defeat you.

And you could land again in my way.

Your look shows that you don't know.

You are in a better way.

You are withering away though.

So I step in to say hi.
