

Obel, Just So

Black turns beat me bright,
Turning on the light,
Today is gonna be the day
You hear somebody say,
We need you right away.

Tiptoe over the floor
What are you waiting for?
So so and no more
That's all to be, so before.

Today is gonna be the day
You hear somebody say,
We need you right away.
You hear the moments kick and play.
The order of the day
Is already in your way.

The window shade,
The nurse and maid,
To let it all just work away,
From head to toe,
Where shadow grows,
Since forever and a day.

Quiet moments home,
Where some do you roam?
Today is gonna be the day
You hear somebody say
We need you right away.
No time for Tea or lemonade.
Some moments of the day
Were only half awake.

Drink a toast to the sun,
To the things that never go,
To the break of the day,
That is all that I say.
